Stay in Montecatini Terme · Cinque Terre · Siena and San Gimignano · Lucca and Pisa · Florence · 30 August - 3 September 2026

Prepared for Panavision Tours · 19 August 2026 · Ref. GM-2026-0830-PT

The vehicle

One minibus for your group of 17 — 16 participants and the tour leader — with the same driver for all five days.

Mercedes-Benz Beluga — 26 passenger seats plus driver, 7.64 m. Air conditioning, reclining ultra-comfort seats, fridge bar, on-board audio system, large luggage hold.

With 17 guests on board nine seats stay free — breathing room you notice across three eleven-and-a-half-hour days. The 7.64 m matter for manoeuvring too: the vehicle fits the coach terminals of Siena, Lucca and Pisa and finds parking in Florence where a twelve-metre coach struggles. Our base is a quarter of an hour from Montecatini Terme: the driver goes home every night and costs you nothing in accommodation.

Notes

- The Cinque Terre cannot be reached by coach, and it is not a matter of permits. Manarola and Vernazza are pedestrian villages: the roads down to the sea are narrow, full of hairpins and closed to coaches, and there is no permit on sale that opens them. Monterosso does have an access road, but stopping is rationed and it does not solve the other two anyway. The solution that works, and the one every serious operator uses, is the train: minibus to La Spezia Centrale, then the Cinque Terre Express, which links the villages every fifteen to twenty minutes in a few minutes' ride. We drop you at La Spezia at 09:30 and collect you there at 17:30. Tickets or the Cinque Terre Card are bought at the station, or better online in advance; they are at your charge and in high season cost roughly € 20-30 per person for the day. Alternatively, in calm weather, the ferry from La Spezia calls at Monterosso and Vernazza and is the finest way to see them: at Manarola landing depends on the sea. Tell us and we will build the day around the boat outbound and the train back.
- Florence on 3 September: how to save the € 421 check point. The municipal check point that lets a tourist coach into the city is the most expensive single item in this quotation, and we have included it because with the luggage on board and eight and a half hours of free time it is the most comfortable arrangement. There is an alternative we use often, though: the minibus drops you at the Villa Costanza park-and-ride in Scandicci, where the T1 tramway leaves every few minutes and reaches Piazza della Stazione, right in the centre, in twenty minutes. The ticket costs little more than one and a half euro per person, the vehicle parks free of charge with your luggage, and no check point is needed. That is € 421.00 off the total. Let us know which of the two you prefer and the price follows.
- Why the Florence check point costs what it does. The City of Florence raised its tourist coach tariff from September, and your third day falls inside the new one by three days: € 421.00 instead of the lower August figure. It is not our charge and we make nothing on it — if the amount turns out different when the permit is issued, we settle it on the invoice. It is also why the tramway alternative above is worth a look.
- Siena and San Gimignano: worth reversing the order. The programme works as you wrote it, but starting from San Gimignano, a good deal closer than Siena, puts you in the square around 09:15 and gains a good 45 minutes to spend in Siena in the afternoon, when the Campo is at its best. The price is unchanged. If you prefer the original order that is perfectly fine too: we follow whatever you decide.
- 2 September is a half-empty day. Lucca and Pisa are 25 minutes apart and the whole day comes much the shortest of the programme: from 08:00 to 19:30 you have time left over. At no extra cost we can add a stop on the way back — Pietrasanta, with its marble workshops and galleries, or Forte dei Marmi and the sea, which a Spanish group tends to enjoy in summer — or simply have you start later in the morning. Tell us when you confirm.
- Three consecutive eleven-and-a-half-hour days. From 31 August to 2 September the programme runs 08:00 – 19:30 for three days in a row. It is workable and we do it regularly, but it sits at the limit of the driving and rest times set by the European regulation: we ask you to keep to the agreed return times, because a serious delay in the evening carries over into the next morning's departure. If one day needs more time, tell us the day before and we will reorganise — not at the last minute.

· The driver does not stay overnight, and that saves you money. Our base is at Ponte Buggianese, a quarter of an hour from your hotel: the driver goes home every night and there is no accommodation to book or pay for, unlike the usual case where the group stays further away. Only the meals on the four excursion days remain at your charge: the simplest arrangement is to add him wherever the group has lunch, otherwise he sorts himself out — just tell us straight away.

· Flight IB689 on 30 August. Landing at 19:30, with a little under an hour of motorway, brings you to the Hotel Minerva around 21:00. Do check with the hotel that check-in at that hour is fine and, above all, dinner: many Montecatini properties close the dining room at 21:00, and with seventeen people it is far better agreed in advance than discovered on arrival. If the flight is late the driver waits regardless, up to 90 minutes from the actual landing, at no charge.

· Flight IB690 on 3 September. Leaving Florence at 17:30 puts you at departures around 18:00, two hours and twenty before the 20:20 take-off: right for a Schengen flight. If you would rather have more margin we can bring the pick-up forward to 17:00 at no extra cost. Confirm which time you want us to hold.

· Availability: time really is short here. There are eleven days to the first service and this is the busiest stretch of the year. The vehicle is free today and we hold it for you for the whole validity of this quotation, but we cannot guarantee it beyond that: if the group is confirmed, even an indicative go-ahead from you lets us block the calendar straight away. Quotation valid until 22 August 2026.

· Cancellation. Free of charge more than 60 days before the service; from 60 to 30 days the deposit is retained; from 30 to 10 days 50% of the price is charged; in the last 10 days, 100%. With eleven days to the first service today, this booking falls in the 30-to-10-day band, and from 20 August it moves into the last-10-days band: you should know that before confirming.

· To confirm we need the exact address of the Hotel Minerva in Montecatini Terme, the final passenger count, a mobile or WhatsApp contact for the tour leader, your choice between the Florence permit and the tramway from Villa Costanza, and your invoicing details.

We remain at your disposal for any clarification and look forward to hearing from you.
